INSTRUCTIONS:

1. APPLICATION OF IRON-ON TO BE PERFORMED ONLY BY AN ADULT.

2. Iron-on must be completely dry.

3. Preheat iron to 400° Fahrenheit. Do not use steam.

4. Fabric must have a minimum of 50% polyester. 100% polyester will exhibit the most vibrant color. As the percentage of polyester declines, so will color intensity and fastness.

5. Slip the T-shirt or other suitable garment over end of ironing board. A white or light-colored garment is recommended. Put a large piece of plain white paper in between the ironing board and your garment to prevent colors from bleeding through.

6. Place printed paper image side toward fabric. Place another large piece of plain white paper (not waxed) over the transfer and pin it to the fabric.

7. Press paper-covered transfer for 30 to 40 seconds, moving iron constantly. Be sure to press outer edges of transfer. To avoid scorching, do not allow iron to touch fabric.

8. Allow garment to cool for 2 minutes, then remove and discard the used transfer and paper. Do not try to reapply the iron-on to any other area that transferred too lightly, or attempt to reuse the iron-on.

9. Launder as directed for the garment. Do not bleach. Eventually color will fade, but it will last through repeated washings and dryings.

CAUTION: You must use constant motion when applying heat; stopping for any length of time will cause burning or discoloration of the fabric.
